

Followup care is crucial:

- the first five years make the biggest difference in establishing healthy root distribution and safe branch structure.
- expand irrigation outward with the growth of the tree
- Additional irrigation is often necessary.
- Adopt trees for their early years.