

Defining an urban forest

The population of trees and their associated lower plants (and animals) that make up a local plant community. Can include native and non-native species.