Brad's Atomic Grape

"These elongated multi-colored large cherries grow in clusters. Lavender and purple striped when immature, turning to green, red / brown with anthocyanin blue stripes when fully ripe. The interior is green with a blushed red when extra ripe. This amazing variety is delicately sweet. The fruit holds well on the vine and post harvest. The wispy foliage but produces a lot of fruit."

“4-5 oz. beefsteaks. This is a red/yellow interior sister of Blue Beauty. First they ripen yellow, than more of an orange when very ripe. Very attractive with the black anthocyanin splashes really contrasting with the lighter colored skin. Good to very good production. Mid-mid/late. Flavor is very good, much like a good bi-color. Sweet with fruity tones. Very meaty, very few seeds. One of the best varieties I have seen for heat tolerance. Very good ability to stay ripe on the vine and stay edible. (sometimes getting better) Excellent post harvest storage ability. (Last night i ate some that were picked 27 days ago and were excellent. This is an amazing variety.”

Tim's Taste of Paradise

New from Wild Boar. Better than Sungold? This small cherry tomato variety has exceptional flavor. Developed in the late 1990s by plant breeder Tim Peters and released as "Fruity Mix", it was nearly lost to the world when Tim closed his business. It is the result of crossing dozens of wild species with domestic tomatoes and could not be reproduced with more conventional breeding. Wild Boar Farms has further developed, stabilized and refined the variety and is now releasing it as Tim's Taste of Paradise. This is the perfect tomato for home growers, with excellent vigor and great productivity. The only downside is that you won't be able to resist them, so very few of the tomatoes will make it into the house!
